SLOW AGING

Just how big a role does choosing the right cosmetics weigh on the health and youth of your face. A very big one. Because skin is the most bio-dynamic organ that exists: it is calculated that your skin regenerates around 9,000 times during your lifetime.

THE FUTURE is "the convergence of two currents on which cosmetics have been based over the past fifteen years: natural cosmetology, close to radical, centred on Oriental and Ayurvedic techniques is destined to merge with the medical one, for a more molecular cosmetology". These are the words of Dr. Philippe Allouche, specialised in Internal Medicine and Biology of the Skin, at the head of the creation, research and innovations of the luxury brand Biologique Recherche. At the centre of the evolution, awareness of your own skin: "it is the most bio-dynamic organ that exists: it regenerates over 9,000 times during a lifetime, constantly changing and that is why the Istant de peau is so important, the skin diagnosis that lies at the foundation of our method which unfailingly allows us to treat skin and define a personalised anti-aging programme".

PIT STOP FACE
Here comes the anti-aging facials created by Lydia Sarfati and by Dr. Allouche for Biologique Recherche.

- Remodelling Face is a "tailored treatment" by Biologique Recherche, anti-aging face protocol: it softens wrinkles and redefines contours of your face, combining a specific manual technique of electro-therapy. Three types of current are used: galvanic, which favours the spreading of active ingredients, low and medium frequency, with a remodelling/toning effect and pulsing at high-frequency, athermic, that revitalizes your skin according to the "Istant de peau" check-up.
